

everything web 2.0

Full-Day Hands-On Workshop

What every educator should know about how the Web is changing, and the impact these changes have on teaching and learning. This workshop is fast, lots of fun, and very productive. You'll learn all you need to know about web 2.0, including Blogs, Wikis, Social Software, Tagging, and much more. Participants will receive instruction from a highly-qualified, fun, educational-technology guru. ☺

What you need to do:

1. Find a dependable, Internet-connected lab to host the session – one computer per participant (max of 25 per session).
2. Grab a dozen or so friends

What you get:

1. Instruction from a well-known technology consultant
2. Free online materials
3. A wealth of knowledge

For more information:

Contact Chris O'Neal at edleadersonline@gmail.com or visit www.edleadersonline.org

"Thank you so much for today's workshop. It was absolutely wonderful! I can't wait for you to come back."

-- Genie Zydiak, Technology Resource Teacher